The above gift was made by the mahāpradhāni Gōparasa-daṇṇāyaka of Mudiyanū ru (on the occasion of solar eclipse) for the maintenance of temple festivities, rituals, renovations and also to feed the saints (tapōdhanas).

No. B 328 of the reign of the Hoysala king Viṣṇuvardhana, dated Śaka 1108 (1186 A.D.) found from the village Kasuvinahalli in Nanjanagudu Taluk, Mysuru District, Karnataka, records the construction of a Śiva temple and its consecration by Yakaraḡāmuḍa and his sons.

Another Inscription (No. B 337) of the king Vīra Ballāla, of his 11th regnal year is found engraved on the pedestal of a nishadi stone preserved in the A.S.I. museum at Baḷligāvi, in Shikaripura Taluk, Shimoga District, Karnataka. It records the death of Gōṇavave, wife of Yichayya and daughter of Sēvisetti and Mākavve, after following all the procedures required for inviting death. The inscription further refers to her as a disciple of Amrita Chandra bhaṭṭāraka of Dēsiyagaṇa pustaka-gachchha.

KĀYASTHA - No. B 10 found engraved on a fragmentary slab in the forest of Siddhavaṭam in Siddhavaṭam Mandalam, Kadapa District, Andhra Pradesh, is an inscription of the Kāyastha king Ambadēva, dated Śaka 1214, Nandana, Jyestha 1, Wednesday (Irregular). It is in Sanskrit and Telugu language and characters. The inscription registers the gift of villages viz., Gunjānāḡēśvaram, Kulukurita and Chilleśvaram as sarvamānya to a certain Sidhaśiva, son of Uttama Śivagurudēva by the king for his own merit, when he was ruling from Gaṇḍikōṭa.

KSHATRAPA - No. B 38 belonging to the reign of the king Rudrasīmha I was found engraved on a loose stone slab lying in a field, outside the village Goniyaśar (Mōṭa) in Mandvi Tahsil, Kutch District, Gujarat. It is now preserved in the Kutch District museum, Bhuj. The language of the record is Sanskrit (prose) with some influence of Prākṛit and is dated Śaka 102, Mārgaśira ba. 15. The inscription refers itself to the reign of the king mahākshatrapa Lord Rudrasīha (Rudrasīmha), and gives the following pedigree of the king: - king and mahākshatrapa Lord Chāṣṭana; his son, king and kshatrapa Lord Jayadāma; his son, king and mahākshatrapa Lord Rudradāma; his son, king and mahākashtrapa Lord Dāmaghsada; his brother, king and mahākshatrapa Lord Rudrasīmha.

The object of the inscription is to record the erection of an inscribed pillar (lēkhalashṭhi) by Rudradatta, Varisēṇa and Ītrāta in memory of the father (Mēghasha) and brother (name not known) of Anēmitra, who belongs to Yajanasā-gōtra and the Ābhīra clan. The mention of the Ābhīra clan in the present inscription of Rudrasīmha dated 180 A.D. is quite interesting, as it throws light on the continued existence and activities of that clan during almost the entire period of the rule of the western Kshatrapas.

Coming to the historical importance of the inscription, Dr. Ajay Mitra Shastri (Ep. Ind. Vol. XVI, pp. 233 ff.) had fixed the year of accession of the western Kshatrapa ruler Rudrasīmha I as second half of the Śaka 103 (181 A.D.) Before the discovery of the present inscription, the first known year of this king was Śaka 103 (181 A.D.), but the present inscription adds one more year to his reign as mahākshatrapa. Thus on the basis of the present inscription, Śaka 102 (180 A.D.) may be regarded as the first year of Rudrasīmha I's rule as mahākshatrapa.

PĀṆDYA - No. B 370 a Tamil record belonging to the period of the king Vīrapāṇḍya, is found engraved on the south wall of the garbhagriha of Amanaliṅgēśvara temple at Karappāḍi in Pollachi Taluk, Coimbatore District, Tamilnadu.
